Counseling and Educational Psychology Student Travel Award

This award is to support expenses accrued by doctoral students in Counseling and Educational Psychology who travel to professional conferences to present academic papers.

Following are conditions for receiving the award:

1. Up to $300 may be awarded, per student, for presentation at a national conference (such as American Psychological Association, American Educational Research Association, or American Counseling Association).
2. Up to $150 may be awarded, per student, for presentation at a regional conference (such as Midwestern Educational Research Association or APA Division 17 Great Lakes Conference).
3. Up to $75 may be awarded, per student, for presentation at a State conference (such as Indiana Association of School Psychologists).
4. For papers with multiple authors, the limits per paper are: $600 at a national conference, $300 at a regional conference, and $150 at a State conference.
5. A student may be awarded up to $300 per academic year, for up to three years.
6. To receive an award in a second year a student must be first author on a paper.
7. A third year award is contingent on having published in a refereed journal while an IU graduate student (in addition to making another presentation). A letter of final acceptance of the paper or the actual publication is required.
