Program/Student Outcomes

Although Indiana University-Bloomington (IUB) and Indiana University-Purdue University-Indianapolis (IUPUI) are jointly accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), this site only contains placement information for the IUB Counseling/Counselor Education program. The Indiana University-Bloomington program has three tracks that are accredited by CACREP: school counseling (48 credits), community counseling (48 credits), and mental health counseling (65 credits). In 2014-2015, seven students graduated from the school counseling program and six of them are presently employed as school counselors. All seven students who entered the school counseling program graduated from it. Thirty-two students entered the community agency master’s and 30 students graduated from the program. Of the 30 students who graduated from the community counseling program, all of them either immediately entered the Ed.S. program in mental health counseling or a doctoral program. Of the students who entered the Ed.S. program in mental health counseling, all of them ultimately completed the requirements to be license eligible and the faculty estimates that 90% secured full-time employment.
