New Course Proposals

L295 – Literacy Leadership Service-Learning Pre-Trip 1 credit hour BL

Prepares students for an international summer service trip to work with an English summer camp in a selected country. The 8-week session will address service ethics, history, culture, and politics, language, and training for camp counselors. The L296 (2 cr.) summer service trip will be scheduled in July & August. L295 is a prerequisite for L296. Justification: Books & Beyond has made annual trips to Rwanda since 2009, but the short trips have been inadequate for the purposes of the project (promoting literacy, book ownership, and intercultural communication). The new course supports an English summer day camp for the students at Kabwende Primary School.

G656 - Social Bases of Behavior 3 credit hours BL

This course provides an overview of the social bases of behavior from a psychological perspective. Three broad categories of social psychological topics are addressed: social cognition, interpersonal processes, and social influence. Justification: We are creating a new course number to reflect the doctoral level content of the course (i.e., 600-level course) since this is a required course for counseling psychology doctoral students. We are also creating a new course name, Social Bases of Behavior, because this is the name of the coursework domain required by the American Psychological Association for the purposes of accrediting doctoral programs in counseling psychology.

G352 - Counseling for Career Issues 3 credit hours BL

Prerequisites - G206 Introduction to Counseling Psychology. This course serves as an introduction to career counseling and assisting people with issues related to work. It will address career development theories and intervention strategies for assisting individuals with career decisions (e.g., choice of a college major). The course will also include resources related to career counseling, such as career assessments and sources of occupational information. Justification: This course is designed to be part of the new minor in counseling at Indiana University. As the world at work is rapidly changing, this class will orient students on helping individuals with issues related to work.

F110 - WINDOWS ON EDUCATION – change credit hours to 0 - 3 IUPUI

First year seminar to support incoming freshmen interested in teaching as a career. The course will facilitate students' efforts to navigate university life while making an informed decision regarding career choices.

Justification: In order to achieve the 120-hour program required by the state, we need to be able to offer this course for 1 credit.
