

Standalone PhD Minor in Educational Leadership at Indianapolis

"Students choosing to minor in educational leadership should work with their minor advisor to choose four A-prefix courses (12 credits) that best support their specific research interests. We recommend that students try to include courses at the 600-level."

Rationale: The Grad Studies Office told us that we never officially had a minor approved. We were encouraged to get one on the books soon. We wanted the flexibility with the minor in order to cater to each student's specific research interests.
